

Are you ready

...for success?

...for more choices to help
in your recovery journey?

There is a new program to increase your chances for success in recovering from substance abuse and other addictions. Even if you have struggled for years, there is new hope for recovery.

With the Anishnaabek Healing Circle "Access To Recovery" (ATR) program, you have more choices than ever before to design a recovery program that is just right for YOU. You receive personalized vouchers to use for the clinical treatment and recovery support services you want.

Maybe you think some counseling would help you. Perhaps working with a traditional healer would be most helpful. Or maybe you think a sweat lodge would help make the difference in your case. All these choices and more are yours to make.

You decide on the services you want.
You choose the provider(s) you want.
You decide what is best for YOU.

Maybe now is your time to move on to a happier life!
You can do it!

How do you enter and move through the system?

There is "no wrong door" for entry into the ATR program. You may refer yourself or be referred through any tribal program, collaborating partners and other sources.

Regardless of how you enter the program, your collaborating tribal site will serve as your Access and Care Coordination Center. This Center will determine your eligibility by performing an initial screening. If the screening shows a need for clinical treatment and/or recovery support services, you will be registered for the program and a full clinical treatment and/or recovery support assessment will be completed. After the assessment, the assessor will request a service voucher. The ITC authorizes the service voucher and you will be given a list of providers from which to choose.

You select and make an appointment with the provider(s). The ATR Access and Care Coordination Center assigns a care coordinator who advocates for you and helps you navigate the system. You may elect to receive services from the same organization that conducted your assessment.

You make an appointment with the provider and receive services. It's as simple as that... You choose the services you think will be most helpful in your recovery, and you choose the provider(s) you want.

What is the ATR Initiative?

Access To Recovery (ATR) is a nationwide presidential initiative which provides vouchers to people for purchase of substance abuse clinical treatment and recovery support services. The goals of the program are to expand capacity, support personal choice, and increase the array of faith-based and community-based providers for clinical treatment and recovery support services.

ATR is expanding treatment capacity and consumer choice in 18 states, five tribal organizations, and the District of Columbia. The Inter-Tribal Council, in collaboration with eleven federally recognized tribes, was successful in competing for an ATR grant from the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA).

Who is eligible?

The primary target populations are the enrolled members of the eleven collaborating tribes and members of other federally recognized tribes residing in the service areas designated by the collaborating tribes. Non-native family members are also eligible for services.

The eleven collaborating tribes are:

- Bay Mills Indian Community
- Hannahville Indian Community
- Lac Vieux Desert Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians
- Saginaw Chippewa Indian Tribe
- Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians
- Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians
- Keweenaw Bay Indian Community
- Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa
- Pokagon Band of Potawatomi
- Nottawaseppi Huron Potawatomi
- Match-e-be-nash-she-wish Band of Potawatomi
