Access and Care Coordination Center

Odawa Healing LLC

Eva transitioned with three decades of community work in helping out individuals and families through volunteering and counseling. She has most recently opened her own practice, Odawa Healing LLC., to service West Michigan Native American Families and Individuals.

In her own practice and consulting Eva offers individuals a centered approach to counseling skills. As she has learned from her own personal experiences in the seventy's, healing begins from hope. She has been committed to working for the past twenty seven years with many communities, especially tribal communities, to enhance the lives of women and children. She remains focused in working with incarcerated individuals released back to their communities and seeking a new beginning. Her passion is to continue to develop healing through learned knowledge, both traditional and non-traditional teachings, of acceptance with dignity, demonstrated through respect and most importantly offering HOPE.
